

Privacy Policy

Last Updated: June 11, 2026

Introduction

This Privacy Policy explains how the Discord bot ('District 10 V10') collects, uses, stores, and protects information when users interact with the Bot.

Information We Collect

The Bot may collect Discord User IDs, Server (Guild) IDs, Channel IDs, command usage information, and server configuration settings required for Bot functionality.

How We Use Information

Collected information is used to provide Bot features, maintain server settings, respond to commands, improve reliability, and ensure security.

Data Retention

Information is retained only for as long as necessary to operate the Bot and provide its services. Data may be deleted upon request where technically feasible.

Data Sharing

We do not sell or rent user data. Information may only be disclosed when required by law or to protect the security, rights, or integrity of the Bot and its users.

Data Security

Reasonable measures are taken to protect stored information from unauthorized access, alteration, disclosure, or destruction. However, no method of electronic storage is completely secure.

Third-Party Services

The Bot may interact with Discord and other third-party services. Users are subject to the privacy policies and terms of those services where applicable.

User Rights

Users and server administrators may request information about stored data or request deletion of eligible data by contacting the Bot developer.

Children's Privacy

The Bot is not intended for individuals who are prohibited from using Discord under Discord's Terms of Service.

Changes to This Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy may be updated periodically. Continued use of the Bot after updates are published constitutes acceptance of the revised policy.

Contact Information

For privacy-related questions, concerns, or data requests, contact the Bot developer through the designated support server or contact method.
